DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' arguments, filed 9/4/03, have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. The following rejections and/or objections are either reiterated or newly applied. They constitute the complete set presently being applied to the instant application.

TITLE

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed. The present title is generic regarding methods whereas only specific methods of regulating the blood brain barrier permeability via an agent which is selective for NOS-3 isoform is presently being claimed.

LACK OF ENABLEMENT

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Factors to be considered in determining whether a disclosure would require undue experimentation have been summarized in Ex parte Forman, 230 USPQ 546 (BPAI 1986) and reiterated by the Court of Appeals in In re Wands, 8 USPQ2d 1400 at 1404 (CAFC 1988). The factors to be considered in determining whether undue experimentation is required include: (1) the quantity of experimentation necessary, (2) the amount or direction presented, (3) the presence or absence of working examples, (4) the nature of the invention, (5) the state of the prior art, (6) the relative skill of those in the art, (7) the predictability or unpredictability of the art, and (8) the breadth of the claims.

The Board also stated that although the level of skill in molecular biology is high, the results of experiments in genetic engineering are unpredictable. While all of these factors are considered, a sufficient amount for a prima facie case are discussed below.

Claim 1 has been amended to limit the regulating agent which is administered to an agent "that is selective for the nitric oxide synthase-3 (NOS-3) isoform" as also recited as a preferred embodiment in the specification on page 15, lines 17-23. Consideration of the entirety of the instant disclosure as filed has failed to reveal citation of any particular agent or agents which has this selective characteristic, nor any agent or agents which have a chemical structure likely to be selective in this manner. It is noted that several citations in the specification list non-limiting NOS-3 activators such as at page 16, lines 30-35, but without characterizing selectivity of them, nor a specific set of assays for use to define such a specificity. It is noted that K_i values are described in said page 15 citation but without assay methodology, nor is such methodology described elsewhere in the instant specification. A type I NOS inhibitor is described in the specification on page 39, lines 1-29. IL-12 is described as inducing NOS-1, NOS-2, and NOS-3 on page 44, lines 1-18, of the specification. Nowhere is there any guidance as to even what type of compound should be tested for NOS-3 selective inhibition, nor what would make such a compound administerable so as to regulate permeability of the blood brain barrier as also required of the agent in the instant claims. Thus, undue experimentation would be required to find such a selective inhibitor of NOS-3 as presently required in the pending claims. This need for undue experimentation results in a lack of enablement of the practice of the instant claims regarding the determination of a selective NOS-3 inhibitor as now claimed. This rejection is necessitated by amendment.

No claim is allowed.

Applicants' amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicants are reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
